

How Do We Strengthen Supply Chain Leadership in Countries?

14th TechNet Conference
HR for SCM Theme
Breakout Session Topic 2
2:00 PM Thursday, May 14, 2015

Session Objectives

- Review 7 Habits of a Highly Effective Supply Chain Professional
- Discuss the concept of “Leaders as Change Agents” and review country examples.
- Explore and identify cultural, policy, organizational, and structural enablers for and barriers to identifying and empowering supply chain leaders.

The 7 habits of highly effective health supply chain professionals

- 1. Is proactive
- 2. Begins with the goal to be achieved in mind
- 3. Plans and Prioritize activities, and stays flexible
- 4. Considers the needs of other stakeholders
- 5. Slow to speak, listens to others to decide on issues
- 6. Encourages diversity and collaboration
- 7. Embraces innovation

Brain Storm

- Enablers: What are the cultural, policy, organizational, and structural enablers for identifying and empowering supply chain leaders?
- Barriers: What are the cultural, policy, organizational, and structural barriers to identifying and empowering supply chain leaders?
- Interventions: How can countries and partners address the enabling environ and remove barriers to effective and empowered supply chain leadership?